FOREWORD

I am pleased to present the Oti Regional TVET Improvement Plan for the year 2025. This document outlines our strategic vision, mission, and key goals as we work together to transform technical and vocational education in our region. Oti is uniquely positioned within Ghana's newly established regions in 2019, blessed with natural resources, diverse cultures, and a strong agricultural base. It is essential that we leverage these advantages to create sustainable development through technical education, skills development, and innovation.

Our region faces both opportunities and challenges. As highlighted in the situational analysis, Oti Region is endowed with vibrant agricultural activities, artisanal crafts, and the recent discovery of high-grade iron ore deposits. These resources provide a fertile ground for harnessing TVET to stimulate regional economic growth. However, weaknesses such as limited staff strength, infrastructural challenges, and insufficient funding pose some challenges to the smooth development of the region. Nevertheless, the opportunities presented in the region would be used as a steppingstone to harness growth in the region. This improvement plan addresses these issues and offers strategic pathways to tackle them.

Our mission is to provide quality, relevant, and accessible technical education, empowering our youth with the skills needed to drive economic development. By focusing on capacity building, modernizing training facilities, and fostering industry partnerships, we aim to transform TVET into a leading force for job creation, entrepreneurship, and sustainable development in the Oti Region.

Since funding is a challenge to the OTI TVET Regional Directorate, the leadership is thinking outside the box to mobilise the needed resources to complement government's efforts to move Oti TVET Directorate to another level, hence the bringing on board funds mobilization strategist and tactician as a strategic collaborator and partner to help achieve our dream for Oti TVET Directorate should be a must to cushion the program.

As we move forward, I am confident that with the collaboration of the government, the community and other stakeholders, we can achieve the goals set out in this plan. I encourage all partners and stakeholders to support this initiative, as together, we can build a prosperous future for our region through the power of technical and vocational education.

1.0 SITUATIONAL ANALYSIS

1.1 Overview of the Region

Oti Region is one of the six newly created regions in 2019 after successful referenda in December 2018, with the Constitutional Instrument (CI 112) of 2019. It was carved out of the northern part of the Volta Region. The region is bordered on the north by the Northern Region, to the east by Togo, to the south by the Volta Region, and to the west by the Volta Lake. It has Dambai as its regional capital and the major languages spoken being Guan, Twi and Ewe. Unlike the Guans, the Ewes are found mostly in communities along the Volta Lake with other smaller ethnic groups in the region including the Hausa, Basare, Kotokoli and Kabre with dialects such as Nkonya, Tiwuli, Akporsor and Bowiri.

The political administration of the region is through the local government system. Under this administration system, the region is divided into nine (9) Municipal and District Assemblies (MDAs) (made up of 4 Municipalities and 5 District Assemblies). Each Municipal and District Assembly, is administered by a Chief Executive, representing the central government but deriving authority from an Assembly headed by a presiding member elected from among the members themselves. The current list is as follows: Biakoye District, Jasikan Municipal, Kadjebi District, Krachi East Municipal, Krachi Nchumuru District, Krachi West Municipal, Nkwanta North District, Nkwanta South Municipal and Guan District.

According to 2021 population census, by the Ghana Statistical service, the table below shows the distribution in terms of municipal and district assemblies (MDAs)

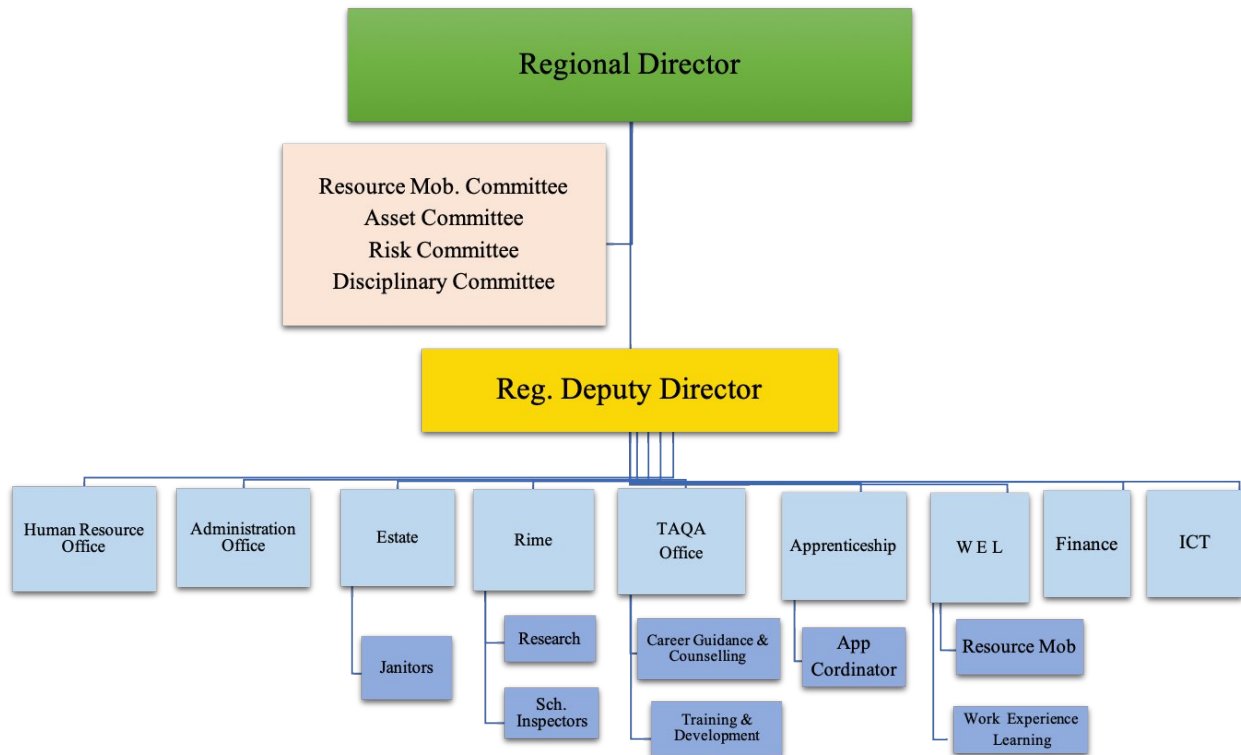

S/N	MDAs	MALE	FEMALE	TOTAL
	Nkwanta South	68,143	67,793	135,936
	Nkwanta North	62,622	63,474	126,096
	Krachi East	56,186	54,249	110,435
	Krachi Nchumuru	40,367	39,567	79,934
	Kadjebi	37,902	36,057	73,959
	Biakoye	36,069	35,758	71,827
	Krachi West	31,209	29,919	61,128
	Jasikan	30,441	29,254	59,695
	Guan	14,453	13,785	28,238
	TOTAL	377, 392	369, 856	747,248

The Ghana Geological Survey Authority has discovered large quantities of iron ore deposits in Akokrowa, a farming community in the Oti Region of Ghana. The iron ore, according to the geological investigation, is 55.22 weight percent (Fe) and of a higher grade. It is anticipated that the exploration and the business of the iron will create jobs and wealth for the people of Oti and the country in general.

Below is the map of the region.

The Regional TVET Directorate is housed in the regional administration and headed by the Regional Director assisted by the Deputy Regional Director and supported by 9 staff members. The Regional Administrative Structure is as shown below:

There are five (5) institutions under the region. The breakdown is as follows: Fr. Dogli Memorial Technical Institute, St. Theresa's Technical Institute, Kaakyi Technical Institute, Lolobi Technical Institute and Dambai Technical Institute. There are ten (10) major trade areas, which are facilitated in the region.

1. Building Construction Technology
2. Electrical Engineering Technology
3. Fashion Design Technology
4. Business Accounting
5. Business Secretarial
6. Agricultural Mechanization Technology
7. Wood Construction Technology
8. Computer Hardware Technology
9. Hospitality and Catering Management
10. Carpentry and Joinery Technology

These trade areas are found interchangeably among the institutes.

1.3 Vision, Mission and Core Values

Vision Statement

Be a leading Directorate in managing innovative TVET delivery for regional transformation.

Mission Statement

“To deliver TVET that stimulates creativity, innovation and entrepreneurship in partnership with stakeholders to meet industry demands for sustainable national development”.

Core Values

Our core values are curved as “TEAM”. It represents the essential qualities that your directorate upholds, emphasizing the importance of collaboration and collective effort.

T - Timeliness: We prioritize completing tasks and delivering services promptly to meet the needs of our stakeholders efficiently.

E - Excellence: We strive for the highest standards in all our training programs, ensuring quality education and skill development for our learners.

A - Accountability: We are committed to being transparent and responsible for our actions, ensuring that all resources and decisions are managed with integrity.

M - Modernity: We embrace innovation and the use of up-to-date technology to enhance learning, making sure our programmes stay relevant in the evolving job market.

1.4 Staffing

2.0 S.W.O.T. ANALYSIS

2.1 Overview of Strategic Assessment Tools

The SWOT analysis evaluates the internal strengths and weaknesses, and the external opportunities and threats in our directorate. We used the internal analysis to identify resources, capabilities, core competencies, and competitive advantages inherent to the directorate. The external analysis helps us to identify opportunities and threats by looking at the industry environment, and the general environment.

Strengths:

1. Committed Regional Staff
2. Effective Record-keeping and documentation

3. Strong interpersonal relationships among staff
4. Qualified Staff in their areas of expertise

Weaknesses:

1. Understaffing
2. Unconducive working environment
3. Lack of essential resources, including office equipment, and supplies
4. Insufficient internally generated funds (IGF)
5. Absence of residential accommodation for the Regional Director and Deputy

Opportunities:

1. Utilization of major radio stations and junior high schools (JHS) within the region.
2. Potential partnerships with donors, NGOs, Mastercrafts Persons, and other stakeholders to place students in Workplace Experience Learning (WEL) programmes
3. Government support and policies

Threats:

1. Delays in government Reimbursement
2. Over-reliance on government funding
3. Competition with the Ghana Education Service (GES) for student enrolment
4. Competition from other agencies; GEA, CEA, NEIP, Mastercard
5. Delays in administrative decision from Headquarters

2.2 Thematic Area: Leadership and Management

1. Development of vision, mission and core values for the regional directorate
2. Ensuring that all TVET Staff in the region are well educated on the scheme of service for the Ghana TVET Service
3. Ensuring that professional development of the regional staff and institute level staff prioritised with structured and systematic GESI-responsive at centre.
4. Resource mobilisation strategy needs to be developed and implemented
5. The region needs to have Standard Operating Procedures in place.
6. Identifying and registering formal, informal and non-formal TVET providers in the Region

3.0. THEORY OF CHANGE

IF... Oti Regional TVET Directorate collaborate with key partners and stakeholders to ensure that:

- 1. a learning and skills development-focused Vision, Mission and Core Values (VMC) for the Directorate are developed, disseminated and implemented
- 2. sensitization and education of Trainers and Regional Directorate staff on the GTVETS's Scheme of service (SoS) are undertaken
- 3. a structured and GESI-responsive professional development of regional staff and trainers are institutionalised

4. an implementable resource mobilization strategy for the Directorate are developed and implemented
5. Standard Operating Procedures (SOP) to guide the operations of the Directorate are developed and implemented
6. identify and register the formal, informal and non-formal TVET providers in the region

THEN...

Regional Technical and Vocational Education and Training Directorate and the Technical Institute are learning and skills development- focused

MEANS...

Graduates from the Technical Institutes are equipped with the relevant skills and competencies to progress and succeed in further studies, world of work and have a responsible adult life
